

MOST Basics and Beyond Implementing the Medical Orders for Scope of Treatment in Colorado

Presented by: Dr. David Koets, Chief Medical Officer, The Denver Hospice, and Chair of the Colorado Advance Directives Consortium and Jennifer Ballentine, MA Executive Director of Life Quality Institute and Co-Chair of the Colorado Advance Directives Consortium

The Medical Orders for Scope of Treatment program was launched in Colorado last fall. The MOST provides a process for translating patient treatment preferences into a medical order set, which is honored in any healthcare setting. Through the efforts of dedicated volunteer trainers, the word about MOST is getting out – but many healthcare providers are still unfamiliar with the process. At the same time, trainers and early adopters have encountered new questions and complexities as they have prepared their communities for implementation.

Providers of all types and from all settings are invited: EMS, hospitals, long-term care, hospice and palliative care, primary care, home health, nonmedical caregiving, and senior advisors and services.

This two-part workshop will provide a thorough introduction to the MOST process and form in the morning, and, in the afternoon, a refresher and more advanced, case-based consideration of MOST implementation realities. The afternoon session will also provide guidance in how to initiate and carry through a productive conversation with a patient to complete the form.

Over lunch, those interested in offering education to their facilities or communities will be provided with a basic training and tools for presentations.
